The Radio HF Internet Newsletter is distributed monthly, free of charge, to subscribers by e-mail. The Newsletter is a collection of web sites specifically related to radio (AM/FM, shortwave, Internet radio, amateur radio, scanning and CB), communications, telecommunications, radio memorabilia and collectibles, media, journalism, science, technology, space and astronomy, weather, transportation, plus some fun things thrown in for good measure! Each edition includes links to web sites submitted by subscribers or by the editor. All sites are reviewed, verified and presented to you, with the URL, and a brief description of each site.

The Newsletter arrives in your in-box as an easy to read e-mail; no complicated attachments, and no fear of viruses. The subscriber list is secure, private and confidential. It will never be sold, redistributed or displayed.

Subscribers are encouraged to send along web sites for inclusion in future editions of the Newsletter. All contributors whose sites are published will receive a 2% discount on their next purchase from Radio H.F. The e-mail address for all contributions, comments, and subscription requests is hfnewsletter@yahoo.com mailto:hfnewsletter@yahoo.com

Welcome to the May issue the Radio HF Newsletter. Happy Mother's Day to all of you celebrating the occasion.

It's been a pretty hectic April and beginning of May for me so things are somewhat behind in getting this edition together. I just haven't had a lot of time available to search out some new sites to add to the Newsletter. Input from subscribers this month has also been practically non-existent, contributing to me having to do more work on my side to find enough material to make the issue interesting for you.

The remainder of May and early June looks to be pretty busy for me as well so chances are that June's edition may be somewhat delayed also. Some input from you guys would be great to help make my job a little easier.

IMPORTANT NOTE: THE GREAT CANADIAN BIRDATHON 2015

A big "Thank you" to a number of you who have already come through with a contribution to our annual fundraising activity to protect birds and their habitat. It's really important to us and we appreciate your continued support.

For the rest of you, you still have time to contribute. We should be heading out somewhere between May 20 and May 25 to conduct our 24-hour day of birding to see as many species of birds as possible in a day. Supporters can either pledge a flat amount to our cause, or to stimulate and challenge us to see more species, a pledge-per-species can be made.
I sincerely hope that you will choose to help out our cause by donating whatever amount possible directly through our 2015 Great Canadian Birdathon webpage at http://tinyurl.com/qftkome http://tinyurl.com/qftkome and click on the "Give Now" icon. You can make your payment by credit card or PayPal, or by sending a cheque, payable to Bird Studies Canada to my Radio HF mailing address.
Thank you to all who have contributed in the past years. We hope we can count on you again this year, as well as the support of some new contributors. Our contributions are way, way down this year, so every little bit helps.

Our Monthly Special Zone for May includes web pages on WORLD TELECOMMUNICATIONS AND INFORMATION SOCIETY DAY 2015, INTERNATIONAL DAY OF UNITED NATIONS PEACEKEEPERS and NATIONAL HURRICANE PREPAREDNESS WEEK

This month's virtual voyage around the world, in the "Where in the World Zone", takes us to the Far East to South Korea. South Korea, officially the Republic of Korea, and commonly referred to as Korea, is a sovereign state in East Asia, constituting the southern part of the Korean Peninsula. It shares land borders with North Korea to the north, and oversea borders with Japan to the east and China to the west. Roughly half of the country's 50 million people reside in the metropolitan area surrounding its capital, the Seoul Capital Area, which is the second largest in the world with over 25 million residents

OK, so let's move on to this month's collection of web sites. A little less than usual this month, but I've already explained why..

NEW FROM AOR
AOR AR-DV1B WIDEBAND COMMUNICATIONS RECEIVER

The AOR AR-DV1B wideband communications receiver covers 100 kHz to 1300 MHz in traditional analog modes (SSB, CW, AM, FM, S-FM, W-FM) as well as various digital modes. In fact, we know of no other radio in this category that can decode Icom's D-Star mode, Yaesu's new C4FM mode, Alinco's digital mode, NXDN (note: 6.25 kHz only), P25 Phase 1, etc.
Interesting features will include: 2000 Memories (in 40 banks of 50), Memory Scan, AM Synchronous Detection, Noise Reduction, Notch, Digital Data Display, Clock, Calendar, Alarm, Timer. The SD/SDHC jack supports logging functions. There is also a micro USB port. This radio will support field firmware updating. High performance is achieved as the receiver employs direct conversion below 18 MHz and triple conversion superheterodyne above 18 MHz.
For complete details on the AR-DV1B receiver please check out the AOR USA webpage at

Now most of you know me to be a rather dedicated QRP Operator. That does not mean I cannot appreciate amplifiers and their design. SO at the risk of my low power “Cred” I have to say this book is really interesting. It is not just a technical book. It is a great history of the many commercial Ham Radio High Power maps that have been in popular use through the years. The various amplifiers are discussed in detail, often including full schematics to support the explanation of their design. Using the in depth study of these various commercial approaches, the author then goes on to help the reader design their own amplifier, for HF, VHF and even UHF bands. The author reports personally building over 2000 RF Amplifiers. Armed with his experience, a dedicated ham who takes careful note of the safety concerns involved in working with high powers and dangerous voltages can produce their own amp. When you are ready to put on your Big Shoes, you will want to have this book in your library

Via Robert Ellis, Beaconsfield, Quebec

Welcome to the History Cooperative! We’re just a group of people who all have a passion for history. But more than that, we all have a passion for sharing history! It doesn’t matter whether it’s the history of a piece of technology, a food dish, a piece of clothing, a style of music, it could be anything! We all just love to know where things came from and how they became the way they are. After sharing lots of ideas and interesting tid-bits of information over a forum for a few years, we decided it was time for us to all start our own website!

No one's getting any younger. This site is an excellent resource for rock music fans. This site is a list of dead rock musicians and singers, dead people associated with rock and dead people whose music helped influence and create rock (which I feel includes Jazz and Country artists), sorted by the date of their demise. This is a tribute to them.

Here in Canada, the government has set up a registry where you can register your telephone number to be added to a "Do Not Call" list which will prohibit most telemarketers from harassing you on the telephone. If you're a Canadian and want to be on this list you can register on this site.

RADIO H.F. PUBLICITY ZONE #3

What is new in books & publications from the American Radio Relay League, the Radio Society of Great Britain, and other publishers?

Propagation and Radio Science
Exploring the Magic of Wireless Communication
By Eric P. Nichols, KL7AJ
There are countless ways for radio signals to travel from transmitter to receiver, and understanding how radio waves interact with their environment is an important factor in successful radio communications. While amateurs can maximize station performance and reliability with the right equipment, knowledge and skill, we cannot control propagation. Through scientific exploration and experimentation, we can improve our understanding of propagation and how it affects radio signals.
Propagation and Radio Science presents a comprehensive overview of one of the most fascinating and rewarding activities in Amateur Radio. Author Eric Nichols, KL7AJ, uses his lively, engaging approach to present the complex subject of radio propagation in simple, easy-to-understand terms. This book covers topics ranging from theoretical exploration to practical application. It explains the phenomena we observe on the amateur bands and invites you to embark on the journey through the still-unknown radio propagation universe.
